outcome among individuals with binge eating disorder, Eldredge and Agras, 43

Skills training treatment for adaptive affect regulation in a woman with binge-eating disorder, Telch, 77

Avoidance coping, binge eating, and depression: An examination of the escape theory of binge eating, Paxton and Diggens, 83

Patterns of food selection during binges in women with binge eating disorder, Cooke et al., 187

Initial manifestations of disordered eating behavior: Dieting versus binging, Bulik et al., 195

Subjective or objective binge: Is the distinction valid, Niego et al., 291

BINGE EATING DISORDER

The prevalence and correlates of binge eating in a British community sample of women with a history of obesity, Robertson and Palmer, 323

BINGE EPISODES

Food cravings in women with a history of anorexia nervosa, Gendall et al., 403

BIOLOGICAL DETERMINANTS

Persistence of binge-eating patterns after a history of restriction with intermittent bouts of refeeding on palatable food: implications for bulimia nervosa, Hagan and Moss, 411

BIOLOGICAL SUBSTRATE

Childhood-onset anorexia nervosa: Towards identifying a biological substrate, Gordon et al., 159

BIOMEDICAL MODELS

Beyond body image: The integration of feminist and transcultural theories in the understanding of self starvation, Katzman and Lee, 385

BODY DISSATISFACTION

The nature and extent of body-image disturbances in anorexia nervosa and bulimia nervosa: A meta-analysis, Cash and Deagle, 107

Relationship of weight, body dissatisfaction, and self-esteem in African American and white female dieters, Caldwell et al., 127

BODY ESTEEM

Normal and neurotic perfectionism in eating disorders: an interactive model, Davis, 421

BODY IMAGE

Effects of coping style and negative body image on eating disturbance, Koff and Sangani, 51

Overt and covert sexual abuse: Relationship to body image and eating distubance, Weiner and Thompson, 273

BODY IMAGE DISTURBANCE

The nature and extent of body-image disturbances in anorexia nervosa and bulimia nervosa: A meta-analysis, Cash and Deagle, 107

BONE COMPLICATIONS

Persistent osteopenia after recovery from anorexia nervosa, Ward et al., 71

BULIMIA NERVOSA

Factors influencing the outcome of group psychotherapy for bulimia nervosa, McKisack and Waller, 1

Group psychoeducation for bulimia nervosa with and without additional psychotherapy process sessions, Davis et al., 25

Drop-out and failure to engage in individual outpatient cognitive behavior therapy for bulimic disorders, Waller, 35

The augmented platelet intracellular calcium response to Serotonin in anorexia nervosa but not bulimia may be due to subsyndromal depression, Berk et al., 57

Comorbid bulimia nervosa and schizophrenia, Deckelman et al., 101

The nature and extent of body-image disturbances in anorexia nervosa and bulimia nervosa: A meta-analysis, Cash and Deagle, 107

Eating disorders in adolescence in a swiss epidemiological study, Steinhausen et al., 147

A controlled study of trait narcissism in anorexia and bulimia nervosa, Steiger et al., 173

The selectivity of inclusion and exclusion criteria in bulimia nervosa treatment studies, Mitchell et al., 243

A Psychiatric disorders in women with bulimia nervosa and their first-degree relatives: Effects of comorbid substance dependence, Lilenfeld et al., 253

Selective processing of eating disorder relevant stimuli: Does the stroop test provide an objective measure of bulimia nervosa, Black et al., 329

A Six-year course of bulimia nervosa, Fichter and Quadflieg, 361

A comparison of ever-married and never-married women with anorexia nervosa or bulimia nervosa, Wiederman and Pryor, 395

BULIMIC ATTITUDES

Cognitive avoidance of threat cues: Association with eating disorder inventory scores among a non-eating-disordered population, Waller and Meyer, 299

CARDIOVASCULAR DISEASE

Adult obesity and functioning in the family of origin, Johnson et al., 213

CHILDHOOD OBESITY

The prevalence and correlates of binge eating in a British community sample of women with a history of obesity, Robertson and Palmer, 323

COGNITIVE AVOIDANCE

COGNITIVE-BEHAVIOR THERAPY

Drop-out and failure to engage in individual outpatient cognitive behavior therapy for bulimic disorders, Waller, 35

Skills training treatment for adaptive affect regulation in a woman with binge-eating disorder, Telch, 77

Initial manifestations of disordered eating behavior: Dieting versus binging, Bulik et al., 195

Subjective or objective binge: Is the distinction valid, Niego et al., 291

COMORBIDITY

Comorbid bulimia nervosa and schizophrenia, Deckelman et al., 101

COPING INVENTORY FOR STRESSFUL SITUATIONS (CISS)

Effects of coping style and negative body image on eating disturbance, Koff and Sangani, 51

COPING STRATEGIES

Effects of coping style and negative body image on eating disturbance, Koff and Sangani, 51

COVERT SEXUAL ABUSE

Overt and covert sexual abuse: Relationship to body image and eating distubance, Weiner and Thompson, 273

DEPRESSION

Avoidance coping, binge eating, and depression: An examination of the escape theory of binge eating, Paxton and Diggens, 83

DEVELOPMENTAL PSYCHOPATHOLOGY

Femininity, masculinity, and disordered eating: A meta-analytic review, Murnen and Smolak, 231

DIETARY RESTRAINT

Primary prevention of eating disorders: Might it do more harm than good, Carter et al., 167

DIETING BEHAVIOR

Self-reported dieting: how should we ask? what does it mean? associations between dieting and reported energy intake, Neumark-Sztainer et al., 437

DISORDERED EATING

A comparison of ever-married and never-married women with anorexia nervosa or bulimia nervosa, Wiederman and Pryor, 395
